The Jolly Prince and 99 months

<http://news.bbc.co.uk/2/hi/europe/8021450.stm/> Prince Charles has addressed Italy's lower house of Parliament where he said there were now just 99 months to save the world from environmental disaster. He said that the world was like the Titanic, heading towards a melting iceberg. Prince Charles has also met Pope Benedict XVI as part of a two-day visit to Italy.

A reader sent me the above link and asked my opinion on Prince Charles' claim that we only have 99 months to avert 'environmental disaster'. One thing that immediately struck me as odd was the fact that he specified the time period as exactly 99 months, why not a 100 months or 98 months? Why give us a time frame which is several years long in months rather than years? After all 99 months is over 8 years, so why not say we only have 8 years or 10 years, why 99 months? It seems to me that this 99 month figure has simply been pulled out of a hat, and cited in months for dramatic effect, nothing more. More interesting is the fact that he made the claim addressing Italy's parliament in Rome, and also met with the Pope. The city of Rome that mockingly calls itself the eternal city (in mockery of the true Eternal City, the heavenly Jerusalem), and the Vatican in particular is the synagogue of Satan, and St. Peter's chair is the seat of Satan upon Earth, it is the throne of the god of this world. So it is not surprising that the Prince who represents his god would make such dire pronouncements from the unholy city from where his god reigns over the kings of the Earth. As an aside with this 'Swine flu' (o what an appropriate name) now spreading worldwide, can WWII be far behind? The present pope's last namesake, Pope Benedict XV presided over WWI and the Spanish flu; will Pope Benedict XVI preside over WWII, and another plague? Well, only time will tell!

In regards to Prince Charles' claim that we have only 99 months to avoid environmental disaster, this is how I view such information. We know that Charles and Co. are insiders and have certain plans that 'they' intend to implement. They may even believe that these are their plans but actually they are the plans of the devil. All these complex financial, economic, political, environmental, social and religious games that the elite play are too complex to have been designed and coordinated by mere human beings. So these plans are formulated in heavenly places where the devil is headquartered, and they are then relayed to their human minions probably using technologies we are not aware of, or they may be directly downloaded into the person's mind as they indulge in secret ceremonies, black rites that all the elite partake in as they worship the devil. That is how wars, pandemics, economic collapses etc. are actually planned by devils and then implemented through their human agents. Taking this line of thinking one step further it is clear to us who believe in God, that the devil is not free to do whatever he wants; he is 100% restricted in all his actions, and can only go as far as God allows him to go. This restriction is very well illustrated in the book of Job where the limitations to Satan's actions are set by God not by Satan himself. So before Satan can start a war or send a pandemic or cause an economic collapse the command must be given to him by God from on high. Lamentations 3:37, 'Who is he that saith, and it cometh to pass, when the Lord commandeth it not? Satan may have some freedom in how he executes these plans, as for example in the case of Job; God allowed Satan to do certain things but did not specify how he should do them. Such judgmental commands are given by God only when man's evil reaches a certain level and even then he would rather see us repent and be saved than be destroyed. Lam. 3:<sup>32</sup> But though he cause grief, yet will he have compassion according to the multitude of his mercies. 3<sup>3</sup> For he doth not afflict willingly nor grieve the children of men. However except for the case of Nineveh in Jonah's time, I do not know of any other biblical example of a whole people repenting and changing and thus avoiding God's judgment. So when judgment does go forth, is it just instantaneous and catches everyone without warning? No, God incessantly warns us long before judgment begins, and sends judgment only as a last resort, and then only in waves not all at once. The bible provides a clear record of the judgments that God will send upon Earth as a result of man's wickedness; the book of Revelation in particular gives us a detailed list of the coming disasters including 'environmental disasters.' A lot of planning precedes any major activity that man participates in; for example, a war is not executed without a great deal of training and planning going into it beforehand. Knowing that God's day of wrath, 'day' being more than a 24 hour period, will be poured out upon man in the last days, Satan has been planning for this day for millennia. I am sure he has a whole host working on all sorts of plans and war games preparing for this time. And having a bird's eye view of what is transpiring down here Satan can make some good educated guesses as to the timing of when these things will happen; I say educated guesses because I do not believe God has given the exact timetable of his planned actions to Satan or to any man. If Satan has told the jolly Prince that there are only 99 months left to environmental disaster, then there is some truth to it since all Satan's lies are based on perversion of the truth. But the greater truth is that Jesus has already given us clear signs as to what to look for that would reveal to us that judgment was coming. In essence we don't need the jolly Prince or the Pope or the club of Rome or the committee of 300 or any other person or group to tell us that environmental disaster is coming; the Word of God tells us clearly that it is coming. We also have been given signs that such events such not take us by surprise; we should be well aware when they are close at hand; as a matter of fact we should be better able to assess the timing than Satan or his minions, human or non-human.

In conclusion I would say that we should focus more on praying and fasting than on Satan and his lying whores in the media or positions of leadership. Our God will do nothing except he reveals it to his servants beforehand. Amos 3:7: Surely the Lord GOD will do nothing, but he revealeth his secret unto his servants the prophets. This 99 month story is fishy at best because unless Charles is God he can in no way predict it that precisely. Besides, what does he mean by 'environmental disaster' in 99 months? Does he mean that our whole ecology will collapse and we will be in another ice age? I should rephrase that because I do not believe there ever was an ice age as so-called science claims. 'Environmental disaster' is such an encompassing term that it could mean a million different things. The book of Revelation however is very clear on what these disasters entail such as contaminated waters, destruction of foliage, asteroid impacts and more. We don't need to pay much attention to vague pronouncements by enemies of Jesus Christ; pronouncements made from the very seat of Satan and designed to instill fear into us. More likely this is an agenda pronouncement designed to extract more money from sheeple in the form of an environmental tax. 'Environmental disaster' is coming in 99 months so we need a worldwide tax, collected by the UN of course, in order to save the planet. O the irony of it all! The very same people busy destroying the planet are the same people claiming to save the planet. But God knows who is doing what and they will not escape even if they build their 'environmental shelters' in the very center of hell itself.

Revelation 11:18: And the nations were angry, and thy wrath is come, and the time of the dead, that they should be judged, and that thou shouldst give reward unto thy servants the prophets, and to the saints, and them that fear thy name, small and great; and shouldst destroy them which destroy the earth. It might behoove the jolly Prince to pay heed to this scripture.
